Easily Capture Your Invaluable Leads

The CONEXSYS® lead retrieval system allows exhibitors to capture the essential attendee information needed to follow-up leads and close sales. When an exhibitor scans a delegate's badge, they not only receive the individual's contact information, but also are able to input products of interest, the preferred method of contact post-show, as well as additional information customized to their business needs. Exhibiting at events can be a large investment in a company's future. Why not use an affordable CONEXSYS® lead retrieval solution to help protect that investment.
